FREE PUBLICATIONS ON NEW LAWS, OTHER ISSUES AVAILABLE FROM ROBERTSON

INDIANAPOLIS – State Rep. Paul Robertson (D-Depauw) is now offering a series of free publications that can provide a wealth of information to area residents, ranging from a digest of new laws in Indiana to guides that can help kids, seniors and other Hoosiers of all ages.

"Each year, my office provides a number of free publications that provide access to information that can benefit many aspects of your lives," Robertson said. "I want to give the people I represent every chance to get these publications and use them to help in their daily lives.

"For example, many of the laws passed this year by the Indiana General Assembly, take effect on July 1," he continued. "Since these measures affect such areas as taxes, schools and the workplace, people should have the chance to look through the new laws. To give them that chance, my office is providing a free DIGEST OF ENACTMENTS."

Other free publications offered by Robertson include:

- DON'T BE A VICTIM, a booklet offering ways to protect yourself from frauds, scams and other crimes.
- GUIDE TO INDIANA STATE AGENCIES, which lists contact information and responsibilities of the various departments and agencies in Indiana state government.
- HOOSIER FUN AND FACTS, which is designed to give children a chance to learn more about Indiana government and history.
- HIGHER EDUCATION IN INDIANA, which provides details on Indiana's colleges, universities and occupational and vocational schools.
- RELAX..., an information guide for senior citizens.
- WOMEN'S HEALTH, which contains details to help women maintain a healthy lifestyle.

In addition, Robertson said his office has a limited number of free publications offered through the state of Indiana. Since there is generally a huge demand for these items, Robertson encouraged anyone interested in picking them up to contact him as quickly as possible.

"These publications include the INDIANA TRANSPORTATION MAP to help you locate all major roads and highways in our state and THE INDIANA TRAVEL MAP to direct you to attractions across the state, including farmer's markets and tourist sites," Robertson said. "THE GOLF AND TRAVEL GUIDE will help you find Indiana's public and private courses and THE INDIANA FESTIVAL GUIDE can tell you about many events throughout the year that showcase our state and its people."
